

Three Drowned Off Rockaway In 2 Accidents

Fishing Yawl Sinks in Heavy Sea and Gasoline
Tank on Motor Boat Explodes; 3 Are Rescued

Girl Dies in Big Surf

Body Is Kept Afloat, but Aid Comes Too Late; Accident at Manasquan, N.J.

The fishing yawl Sid went down off Rockaway Point yesterday noon with its skipper, August Krag, of Deep Creek, Queens, and his mate, whose last name was David and who was seventy-six years old.

Harry Glazier, a diamond dealer at 65 Bowery, a passenger, clung to floating wreckage for four hours. He was almost exhausted and utterly hopeless when another fishing boat sighted him and picked him up.

Engine trouble developed on the Sid, he said. A heavy sea was running, and before the boat could be got under headway again it had fallen into the trough of the sea and was swamped by huge waves which rolled over it. The Sid foundered near the place where the Princess Anne went ashore in a winter gale a few years ago.

A few hours after the accident to the Sid the gasoline tank on a motor boat owned by Joseph Moriarity, of 142 Newton Street, Brooklyn, exploded while the craft was in Rockaway Inlet about 500 feet from the East Rockaway shore. A short circuit was responsible for the explosion.

Moriarity and his two companions, Frank Krutt, of 142 Delmonico Place, Brooklyn, and Charles J. Rexler, of 40 Shipley Street, Woodhaven, Queens, all of them veterans of the 317th Field Artillery, jumped into the water to save their lives.

Moriarity was seized with cramps within 100 feet of the blazing boat. For fifteen minutes his companions struggled to save him, becoming to ex-hausted at last that they had to give him up and use their remaining strength to reach the shore. Constable William H. Stronach recovered the body.

MANASQUAN, N. J., Sept. 23.—Miss Alida Newey, twenty years old, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Newey, of 109 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn, drowned this afternoon in the heaviest surf of the year off this place. Her companion, Vernon Osborne, of Spring Lake, after vain efforts to bring her ashore, managed to keep the girl up until Captain Charles W. Cook after two attempts succeeded in launching a heavy surf boat to come to the rescue. Miss Newey had been spending a holiday at Spring Lake. Captain Cook was of the opinion she was dead when he reached her. She was being held up by Osborne, Dr. Robert Leighton, of this place, worked for two hours in an effort to revive her.

Senators Reject Miss Atcherson as Embassy Secretary

First Woman's Diplomatic Nomination and 49 Other
Harding Appointments
Fail of Confirmation

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Miss Lucille Atcherson, of Columbus, Ohio,
the first woman ever named in this country for a diplomatic position,
failed of confirmation in the last minutes of the Senate session.

Miss Atcherson was appointed by the President as secretary of embassy, class four. Her nomination came up in ex-ecutive session of the Senate Friday, with a large number of other nomina-tions. It was blocked by an objection.

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mis-sissippi, is unofficially credited with making the objection that headed off the confirmation. It is understood her nomination will again be made in the recess and eventually she will be con-firmed.

Joseph W. Tolbert, prominent Re-publican politician and member of the National Republican Committee, who was appointed United States Marshal for the western district of his state, was not confirmed. This confirmation was stopped by Senator Dial, of South Carolina, who made charges some weeks ago against Tolbert, and accused the Tolbert machine of trafficking in Federal patronage.

Among the forty-eight postmasters who failed of confirmation was L. C. Weimer, of Dayton, Ohio. It was charged Weimer was third on the eli-gible list and was appointed as a result of a political deal.

States Must Fix Price Of Consumers' Coal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The major responsibility for the price at which coal is sold to consumers by the whole-salers or retailers within the states must rest with the state authorities, Federal Fuel Distributor Spens de-clared to-night in a telegram to the Governors.

The Federal government, he informed the governors, "has no jurisdiction as to coal produced and sold within the state of its production, retail or whole-sale margins or handling coal within these states. Responsibility as to these features must rest with the state au-thorities, and if profiteering in coal is to be prevented, except as to coal that may be moved across state lines at extortionate prices, the proper rem-edy must be applied by the state au-thorities."

Upon the Federal authorities, Mr. Spens explained, falls the duty of de-termining in which part of the country there is a shortage of coal, where pro-duction is to be distributed, the prices usually charged, and whether current prices are just and reasonable, and what consumers should receive priority on transportation.

It appears necessary, he asserted, that state organizations be created where they do not now exist, which will in-vite co-operation in meeting the emer-gency and will fix reasonable margins for retailers and wholesalers.

The Spirit of Autumn

pervading the world of Fashion as well as the world of Nature, imparts to both a beauty and opulence that belong to no other season of the year

And in this great Store, filled as it is to overflowing with treasure garnered from every habitable quarter of the globe, the Spirit of Autumn manifests itself with especial grace in those busy Departments whose particular function is the fashionable outfitting of Women, Misses and the Younger Set

The New Furs for Autumn and Winter

have about them an aura of sumptu-ousness, of luxury, which few women will want to resist. Everything that is really smart in fur fashions may be found in the collection; including

Short Fur Coats, in the new, jaunty models and the furs that are most popular for street wear.

Long Fur Garments, emphasizing the slender, graceful lines prescribed by Madame la Mode for formal occa-sions; variously fashioned of broad-tail, karakul, ermine, mink and seal-skin.

Fur Scarfs, of natural blue fox, natural silver fox, white fox, colored fox, natural baum marten, natural stone marten and other desired furs.

Also a very choice selection of

(Third Floor)

Women's

Coats and Wraps

for formal occasions

strike an impressive note in the Autumnal symphony of style.

Long, graceful lines—now an essential feature of the fashionable silhouette—contribute much to the classic beauty of these handsome outergar-ments, among which are many im-ported models. The materials are soft-surfaced and supple; the linings reveal a subdued elegance which has nothing whatever in common with the flamboyant effects that prevailed a season or two ago. Many of the models are embellished with luxurious furs; but there are many more that are finished without, affording an opportunity for the use of a favorite fur scarf or choker.

Coats and wraps designed especially for large figures, but closely following the general dictates of Fashion, are a feature of unusual interest.
